

Transition Day at Abbots Farm Junior School

– Year 3

Introduction

Today is a very special day! It is Transition Day. This means I get to visit my new Junior school. I might meet new friends and I will meet my new teacher and teaching assistants. I feel excited and maybe a bit nervous too, and that is okay!

Arriving at School

I will arrive at school at 8.50am. This is when the day begins. I will walk into the school hall with my parents, and we will be greeted by Mr Evans and Mrs Macaulay. I will sit on a blue mat with other children from my new class and when everyone has arrived, we will be taken to our new classroom.

Meeting New Friends

At my new school, I might see some faces I do not know yet. This is a chance to make new friends! We can all smile at each other and say hello. Everyone will be feeling a bit excited and maybe a little shy, just like me and that is okay.

Meeting My New Teacher

I will meet my new teacher today. They are there to help me and my friends learn new things. My new teacher is kind, friendly and wants to hear all about the things that I like. I can tell them my name and something I enjoy doing.

Exploring the School

I will have the chance to look around my new school. I can see the classrooms, the playground, and the library. It is important to walk safely in the school and follow the adult's instructions. I will be able to take some photos of different areas of the school and take them home to show my grown-ups.

Feeling Happy

I might feel a mix of emotions today – excitement, happiness, and maybe a little nervousness. These feelings are all normal. It is okay to feel different things.

Saying Goodbye

At the end of the day, I will say goodbye to my friends and my new teacher and teaching assistants. I could tell them that I had a lovely time. I can look forward to coming back and learning more.

Conclusion

Transition Day is a wonderful opportunity. I will be brave and enjoy meeting new people. I will find out information about my new school. I am ready for my new adventures at Junior school!
